The leaders of the United States and State of Israel, President Joseph R. Biden Jr. and Prime Minister Yair Lapid, respectively, met in Jerusalem on October 20, 2022, to reaffirm the enduring commitment of the United States and Israel to the security of their peoples, to the peace and prosperity of the region, and to the unbreakable bonds between their two countries. The leaders welcomed developments and committed to continued progress in the following areas:

1. Security and Defense: In this spirit, the leaders affirmed that the U.S.-Israel strategic partnership is indispensable and makes an outsized contribution not only to the good of American and Israeli citizens but also to regional and global stability and prosperity. The leaders underscored the exceptional security assistance they provide to Israel as part of the U.S.-Israel Memorandum of Understanding (MOU). The memorandum, signed by successive U.S. administrations, is designed to ensure that Israel can defend itself against any threats to its national security and territorial integrity. The United States considers Israel’s security essential to U.S. interests and an anchor of regional stability.

2. Innovation: The leaders welcomed efforts to boost the U.S.-Israel strategic partnership and underscored the United States’ commitment to supporting Israel’s innovative and diverse technology sector. They reaffirmed their shared belief that innovation is a key driver of prosperity and security for both their countries.

3. cybersecurity: The leaders underscored the importance of cyber security to the maintenance of U.S.-Israel strategic partnership. They welcomed joint efforts between the United States and Israel to advance cybersecurity and expressed enthusiasm to move forward with the U.S.-Israel Cybersecurity MOU, signed on April 26, 2022. The MOU should address emerging threats and new realities. In addition, the United States and Israel reiterated their commitment to continued collaboration on operational and cyber exchange and on combating cybercrime.

4. Visa Waiver Program: The leaders reaffirmed their commitment to continue efforts to improve relations with the United States and to make it easier for Israeli citizens to visit the United States for both business and pleasure. They noted historic improvements over the last year, including the addition of Israel to the pilot program for the Visa Waiver Program and the beginning of the application process for Israeli citizens seeking to enter the United States under the Visa Waiver Program.

5. Regional Stability: The United States and Israel reaffirmed their commitment to continue their cooperation to address the conflict between Israel and the Palestinians and the broader regional context. They underscored the importance of this new partnership, first launched by their Foreign Ministers in October 2021.
